MODEL UN AWARDS

While most of the students of E-RAU were slaving over their books in preparation for finals, a small group of students had the extra burden of preparing for a trip to the Model UN held in Mobile, Ala. the weekend after finals. These preparations paid off in an award of 1st in the Security Council for the Soviet Union Delegation of John Foster, Lynn Henry, Gary Rice and headed by Mike Leonard. Also an Honorable Mention was given to the United Arab Republic Delegation of Richard Tucker, Bob Poage and headed by Anne Irving.

Before ERAU's arrival, word had spread about us. The advisor to the only group of High School Delegation asked the organizers who they should portray. The organizers said that the Warsaw Pact Nations would be best because they would be working with E-RAU. It's the general consensus of the Soviet Union Delegation that the Baker High School kids were extremely helpful and much better prepared than most college delegations.

These awards didn't come without work. Anne Irving's delegation developed total mental and emotional involvement in their role. The U.A.R. Delegation succeeded in pushing through every single piece of legislation they sought, including (after nine hours of debate) the Israeli withdrawal to the pre-'67 borders, and the reopening of the Suez canal.

The Russian Delegation, a colorful group to portray, who required much research, was accused of supplying arms, naval and air support, and advisors for a Cuban invasion of Nicaragua. After a debate that dragged on into the late evening, the Soviet Union tried unsuccessfully to call a special session of the Security Council at midnight.

The next morning the USSR submitted a resolution to send a nine nation research team to Nicaragua and return within 24 hours.

Twenty three hours later a conflicting report was returned with 7 nations concluding no invasion had taken place. Japan decided it could

GILL ROBB DEDICATED

The dedication ceremonies of the Gill Robb Wilson Aeronautical Science Center were held April 15th with several thousand people in attendance. Mr. Bob Hoover, representing North American Rockwell Corporation of California, performed low level aerobatics in a P-51 Mustang and a twin engine Shrike Commander. To start the dedication ceremonies, the Florida Army National Guard flew over the dedication site in four helicopters. The Invocation was given by Father Sumner Ferguson of St. Mary's Episcopal Church. William W. Spruance, Chairman of the Embury-Riddle Board of Trustees continued by welcoming the many visitors who represented nearly every airline, aerospace manufacturer and military organization in the country. President Hunt took the platform and made several comments concerning the new Gill Robb Wilson building. The next speaker was Brigadier General Daniel James, Deputy Assistant to the Secretary of Defense of Washington, DC. He gave a brief speech concerning the war in Southeast Asia and the negative attitudes of the news media around the country.

Several other friends of Gill Robb Wilson were present on the podium, as well as Daytona Beach Mayor Richard Kane and United States Congressman Donald H. Clausen of California. The highlight of the dedication ceremonies was when Mr. James Straubel, Executive Director of the Air Force Association, was awarded the annual Gill Robb Wilson Higher Aviation Education Achievement Award form President Jack R. Hunt. Mrs. John R. Mitchell, widow of the late Gill Robb Wilson, received a portrait of the new science center and gave a brief speech.

The dedication ceremonies for the new one and a half million dollar science center were brought to an exciting finish by a fly-over by the Florida Air National Guard and the second portion of the air show quickly commenced. All aerobatic activities were brought to

SPEAKING OUT

The AVION reserves the right to edit letters as we see fit in accordance with good journalistic practice. All letters must be signed, although names will be withheld upon request from the writer.

THE OPINIONS EXPRESSED IN THIS PAPER ARE NOT NECESSARILY THOSE OF THE UNIVERSITY OF ALL MEMBERS OF THE STUDENT BODY, NOR DO LETTERS APPEARING IN THE AVION NECESSARILY REFLECT THE OPINION OF THIS NEWSPAPER OR ITS STAFF.

The SGA. President's Corner

I would like to take this opportunity to welcome all new and transferred students to Embry Riddle Aeronautical University. Hard work and cooperation at E-RAU can only end in a degree that is becoming accepted universally.

The elections to fill senatorial vacancies within the SGA will be conducted Monday, May 22. The way through which your voice and opinions can be expressed and heard is through the SGA Senate. Policies and procedures that effect each and every student at E-RAU are decided during these senatorial meetings. Therefore I am requesting that you the students, become involved in your SGA and run for a Senate seat in the upcoming elections.

The duties of a Senator involve long hours, hard and diligent work, and very little reimbursement other than the fact that you serve as a voice for the students. Information relating to the elections and petitions for placing your name on the ballot can be obtained at the SGA Office. Any questions concerning qualification, duration, and requirements can also be answered at the SGA Office. I will be available to aid you in how-to-campaign and to answer questions as to what you will be expected to do as a Senator.

The Infirmary has been relocated in Building 3 (old Engineering Building/Link). As you enter the building, it is the first door on your left.

Along with the May 22 elections, the Senior Class Officers (President, Vice-President, Secretary) are chosen.

The status of the E-RAU Beerhall is still pending. I have talked with the assistant to the president of Jerry's Caterers from Miami, Florida, and he has informed me that they are still in favor of sponsoring the Beerhall. We are going to resubmit to the Volusia County Lease Committee the request for Building 12 to become E-RAU's Beerhall. Until we obtain a lease, progress will be slow.

The new Constitution has been accepted by the administration. There were some minor changes required for this acceptance; these, in turn, requires that we ratify the constitution during the upcoming election. The basic concepts and rights within the constitution have not been changed; the change constituted replacing general terminology with legal terminology. I am expecting to furnish each student by Wednesday of next week a copy of the Constitution and by-laws so that you can read them and be familiar with the contents before you vote upon this constitution at the May 22 elections.

NEWS & VIEWS from the EDITOR

Once again Embry-Riddle has opened its doors to all new and returning students. The AVION staff would like to welcome everyone and hopes that this will be an educational and fun-filled summer for all.

Congratulations go out to Mr. Roger Campbell for his outstanding service both here at school and during the Model UN at Mobile. It is always inspiring to find an instructor so dedicated to the service of his work and students.

Please make note of the SGA elections coming up on May 22. All students who are eligible are urged to run for the SGA. If you don't put forth an effort, nothing will get done.

Please note that the subject of a Journalism class has been brought up, but the new idea needs your support. If you condone the suggestion, voice your opinion in the AVION. If not, let us know why.

Want to make a little extra spending money? Contact the AVION for full details and let us help you while you're helping us.

The AVION will again be running a Classified Ads section in every issue- FOR FREE. Anyone wishing to sell, buy, rent, or render a service can drop a note by the AVION trailer or Box 1568, and we will be glad to publish it for you.

If you would like to express your opinion concerning any issue, school affiliated or other wise, let the AVION put your ideas in print. Please remember, all articles must be submitted no later than 4PM Monday the week of publication.

During the summer, the AVION will roll out the presses every other Friday. Enjoy the paper and let us hear from you.

LETTERS TO THE AVION

Dear AVION;

This is the time of year all the wanting wailers of woe love, and impotent inactive incumbents hate. Yes, it is election time, and I'm running for the office of Air Science Senator. To be brief my platform is "EXPERIENCE COUNTS".

I can claim experience because in the past year, I've been chairman of at least six committees, usually when they were in their most critical periods. They include: Dorm Committee, Student Center Committee (ad Hoc), Long Range Planning Committee, Social Functions Committee, Standards Committee, and Election Committee. I am a member of the University Dress and Conduct Committee and former member of the Dorm II Dorm Council, and Student Government Executive Board.

Remember: Reelect
Jim Owen
Air Science Senator
Experience Counts

To fellow employees and students of ERAU:

I've worked at many places in Daytona but none that I enjoyed so much as my employment at ERAU. The people I've worked with are some of the nicest I've known. Thank you very much for all the help and encouragement you've given me.

I wish you all the best of luck in the future.
Naomi Cooper

Dear Students:

I would like to take this opportunity to welcome all our new students and our returning students. The break was a rather short time to relax and get ready for a new trimester, but I hope everyone is prepared for the new trimester.

Embry-Riddle offers many different academic curriculum, it also offers something more. Every student on this campus has the chance to get involved in student activities, be it working on the school newspaper, the yearbook, Student Government or the many organizations on campus. One such organization on campus is the Campus Police.

The Campus Police is a totally student-operated force. It is under the guidance of the Dean of Students, supervised by a student and is staffed only by students. Our purpose on campus is many-fold. The primary purpose is to protect student and University property. While on the job, the security guard is always ready to assist students if they are in need of help. We work under the regulations set down by the University and if need be help enforce them.

We have proven that students can police themselves and help protect and promote the University.

We, as students, are taking part in student affairs and I invite anyone who is interested in Campus Security to stop by the Administration Building and see me.

TUTORING

Don't hesitate to plan ahead for tutoring. Tutoring services are available at Embry-Riddle for all students interested. Anyone who is interested in either tutoring or being tutored, please feel free to contact Jeffrey H. Ledewitz, Director of Counseling and Guidance for further information. Just call extension 39 or stop in his office at Room 9 in Building 3, which is located directly across from the Student center and library.

All students who will NOT be in attendance of both Summer terms should leave a FORWARDING ADDRESS in the Dean of Men's Office (Dean Spears) BEFORE leaving.

Dr. TINE W. DAVIS

The Tine W. Davis Building will be dedicated on Saturday, May 13th. This ceremony is a milestone for ERAU and is in honor of Dr. Tine W. Davis, who is known for his success in the world of business, and is perhaps even more widely acclaimed for his intense civic and educational achievements.

Dr. Davis was born the youngest of five children on January 8, 1914. His father opened a general store later the same year and stayed in the same business when the family moved to Miami several years later. Dr. Davis was thus brought up in the grocery business and he learned early in life that success comes only with hard work, long hours, extreme flexibility and constant follow-up.

Dr. Davis attended the Universities of Idaho and Florida, and became a member of Sigma Chi. He showed an early interest in aviation, and was a flight instructor with Embry-Riddle during WW II.

In 1936 he was married. He and his wife Eunice have three children, all of whom are now married.

While whipping his father's small grocery business into the Winn-Dixie empire of today, Dr. Davis has found time to participate in a multitude of civic and educational projects. He has lent his organizational and financial expertise to many groups including chairmanships with the 4-H Foundation, Sheriff's Boy's Ranch.

Aviation was not neglected in Dr. Davis's rise to fame. He became active in many aviation organizations and was recognized as one of aviation's chief boosters in Florida. His service to aviation was recognized in April of 1969 when he was awarded an Honorary Doctor of Aviation Management by ERAU.

We here at Embry-Riddle are proud to dedicate our flight operations building to Dr. Davis. It will stand as a constant symbol of his business, civic and educational sensitivity and achievement.

N.C. let it happen- it will be beautiful.

R.C. - Congratulations- you've arrived- don't blow it.

MODEL UN, CONT'D

not tell what happened, but Spain said that there was actually an invasion taking place. While grilled by our delegation, they reported sighting bodies on the ground. When asked if they were dead or just having a siesta, the delegate from Spain reported that he couldn't tell. Our delegation was overwhelming exonerated.

So E-RAU, without a single Political Science Major or even a separate Political Science Department, has again stood with bigger schools and left with high awards in their second Model UN trip. We of E-RAU owe a vote of thanks and high praise to these seven people and their advisor, Mr. Campbell, for bringing the name of Embry-Riddle to the attention of other colleges around the country and making such a good showing.

ATTENTION

The Marine Air Reserve of Jacksonville will present a four plane fly-over to be followed by a two plane display for the students of Embry-Riddle. The A4 Skyhawk aircraft being presented are the most popular aircraft that the Marine Corps and Navy have today. The fly-over and display will commence at 9:30 on Thursday, May 18, 1972.

Pilots and Technicians will be available to answer questions.

The aircraft will be parked on the west side of the terminal.

Due to the shortage of staff personnel during the summer session, we must insist that all articles be submitted by Friday, 4 P.M. of the preceding week that the paper is to be published. The only exception will be special news articles, which must be submitted by Monday, 4 P.M. of the publishing week. Late articles will be published the following week.

a close by a sky diving exhibition by the Embry-Riddle Sport Parachute Club.

The University was open to the public for inspection of all University facilities at three PM. Present at the campus were over 25 jets, helicopters, and airplanes which were on static display for the many spectators.

Following the dedication ceremonies a reception was held at President Hunt's residence for the many VIP's and their student escorts.

I feel that the dedication ceremonies and air show attracted hundreds of local citizens, as well as the many representatives of the national aviation firms. The outcome of this event will benefit both the students and the University. Many influential people in the aviation industries and businesses were quite impressed with what they saw here on April 15th. The local people and city officials were evidently quite surprised about our rapid expansion and the positive attitudes of the students. The lasting impression that we left with them should greatly benefit all of us in the future.

Three factors really helped me in making the dedication a success and I would like to thank those who were involved in the ceremonies and helped make it all possible. Mr. John Anderson Flight Operations Officer, and Roger Moody Chief of Security were of invaluable assistance to me and their cooperation and contributing efforts are much appreciated. The third and most amazing contribution came from the student help received by over 70 students volunteers. These student assistants were volunteers representing every fraternity on campus, the Quad A (Army Aviators) and many individual students who were just interested and wanted to help. Their help was fantastic and I am truly grateful for their participation. Stephen L. Avery III

by Steve Barbour

Bob Ausness graduated from E-RAU in December, 1971. He began seriously looking for work in April and was fortunate enough to be selected for the job of director of safety for the city of Daytona Beach.

This high ranking position makes Bob a VIP around town. He works with the various city agencies to decrease the accident rate and then investigates accidents when they do occur.

Bob's job brings him in contact with all different kinds of people from the Mayor to the garbage collector and he says it's a lesson in diplomacy, management, mathematics and plain common sense. It seems he never has a dull moment.

Bob is getting acquainted with the leaders of the community and his new status has put him on the News Journal's "most eligible bachelor" list. It appears this recent Embry-Riddle graduate has quickly become a big fish in the small pond of Daytona Beach.

VET'S

The Vet's Club got this new trimester off to a real good start with a Welcoming Party last Friday night. Many thanks to the Vet's Wives Auxiliary for the fine Hor d'oeuvres; of course the free beer was pretty good and the mixed drinks were excellent. We saw a lot of new faces at the party, and a lot of old ones too. With a mixture like that we should have a real fun summer. In case some of you folks aren't sure about just what it is the Vet's Club does, I will now fill you in on the general plan.

We cater to all veterans on campus. Membership is open to active military, reserves, guard, and plain old veterans. The dues are $5 per trimester which covers the whole summer, terms one and two. Our main thing is to promote the brotherhood of all members through social functions. We also serve as a pretty good clearing house for general complaints since we can and do provide an organized voice whenever the situation may warrant. In other words we have our ducks in order and we like to provide as good a time as possible to all members while they fight their way to the surface of the ocean of learning.

Space does not permit the printing of this summer's calendar of events, but I can assure you that there are a lot of beach parties, barbecues, and even a picnic slated.

We are having a business meeting this Fri. night, the 12th, 8PM at the Boar's Head Lounge. The business meeting offers you the perfect opportunity to join our organization, find out what is going on and mainly to get out for the night. So come on down and help us drink some beer and resolve some problems and get rid of the Friday afternoon pressures. See you then and drive careful!

PARKING AND TRAFFIC REGULATIONS

All vehicles including motor scooters and motorcycles operated on the campus must have a permit. The University Security Office (Administration Building) issues permits upon application free of charge. Students who have vehicles will be allowed seventy-two hours to register cars without a penalty provided the car has been parked in a zone to which the student is allowed.

In order for a student to register his vehicle he must bring the following to the Housing Office: 1. Application form, 2. Proof of Insurance, 3. The applicant shall present the form on person.

There are three types of parking permits issued: 1. Student Parking Permit- Student may park in any authorized student parking area other than a faculty area or special zone) 2. Faculty and administration- this permit authorizes the holder (a full-time employee) to park in any reserved parking space or reserved lot, 3. Guest parking permit- Visitors may park in all zones where parking is permitted. Guest parking permits may be obtained at the Security Office, Admissions Office or the Dean of Academics Office.

Enforcement of regulations begins the first day of registration and ends at 5:00PM the last day of final examinations. Parking restrictions are in effect between 6:00 AM and 5:00PM Monday through Friday, with the exception of the Dormitory. Regulations at Dorm areas will be enforced 24 hours, 7 days a week. All other parking restrictions on streets or other areas are in effect 24.

Parking zones have been established as follows: Students parking, Faculty and Staff, Motorcycle Parking, and Visitor parking.

The following constitute a traffic violation:

1. Backed into parking area (Dorm I only)
2. Obstruction of drive-way
3. Parking in drive-way
4. No permit

5. Permit improperly attached (right hand corner of rear window, or left side window on convertibles.)

6. Parking in the wrong area.

7. Parking in designated fire lanes.

8. Abandoned vehicles.

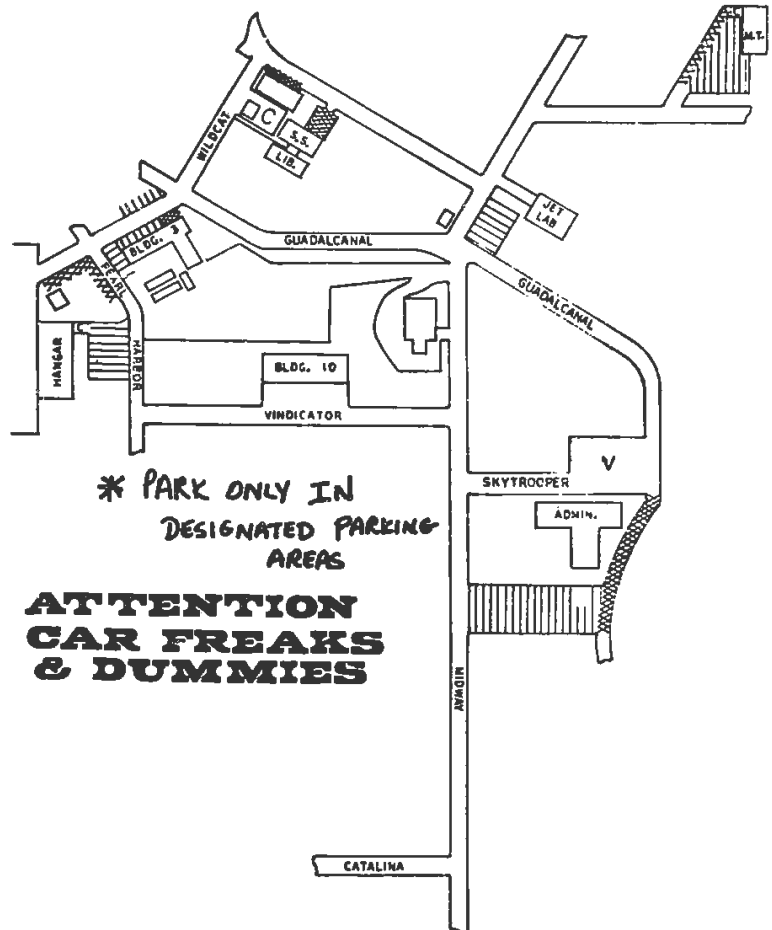

A ticket will be issued to anyone failing to comply with the registration procedures within the 72 hour period. A $3.00 fine will be imposed within a 3 day period following receipt of the ticket; after this period the fine automatically becomes $10.00.

Violation of parking and Traffic regulations during the school year (Sept. to Sept.) will subject the operator to fines as follows: First Violation: Warning Second Violation: $1.00- may pay ticket within two school days at Security Office, after that time must appear in court at time and date appearing on ticket. Third Violation: $2.00- must appear in court. Fourth and Subsequent Violations: $5.00 or as court deems necessary-- must appear in court.

Students must appear in court to appeal all traffic tickets. If a student is unable to appear at the prescribed day, contact the Security Office for a change of date.

DINING OUT

by

Steve Barbour

This week we broke down and went to the Red Lobster. We had heard pros and cons about the Red Lobster operation, so we decided to try it out; we knew that it was inexpensive enough not to hurt much.

We were put on the assembly line list as we entered the restaurant. The line was pretty long so we filed into the bar to be consoled by a cool drink. There wasn't enough time to even order our drinks before they called for us-where had that line gone?

We managed somehow to get a relatively decent table. We could have done a lot worse because many of the tables were jammed so close together that you would be on most intimate terms with your neighbor.

The service was quick and friendly. It was so quick that about five minutes after we ordered, everything was there and we were eating.

The food was good. We had the fisherman's platter so we could sample a little of everything. It was all good. Everything was fresh- it had to be -the volume of business in the place is so great that they must have a direct line to the ocean- trucks could not move enough food that fast.

We had our check about midway through the first bite of food. We paid about $16 for four dinners, including about six imported beers. The price is definately right.

The Red Lobster is for seafood what McDonald's is for hamburger...fast, good and cheap. It's excellent for just a quick seafood dinner, but for a couple of dollars more we prefer to get off the assembly line and visit a less efficient, more old style restaurant- it's relaxing.

HELP THE AVION

How often have you heard the plea "Please help the AVION"? This phrase has become a standard in almost every English class, SGA meeting and AVION issue. It has gone almost unanswered, so a total re-evaluation of the grave situation is now in order.

The fact is that few people have time to work for the paper. It carries no credit or financial reward, and is quite frankly a great deal of work for the people who are crazy enough to work for the AVION.

Many news stories and events are not covered due to a lack of reporters and photographers- after all, if no one feels like covering the event, it doesn't get covered.

Also the lack of an academic atmosphere (a teacher teaching and students learning) has created a situation in which the few people who do work for the paper do not know how to perform their jobs. They are thrown into the situation by necessity and simply crash around until they gain a little knowledge about what they are supposed to do.

The quality of the paper reflects these problems. We are doing the best we know how- but we don't know enough to even realize when something is fouled up. A comparison with Mainland High School's paper painfully brought this to light (it was better).

The solution to these problems is amazingly simple. What is needed is simply a journalism elective. The course could be taken in place of Art or Music and the classwork could be geared for publication.

Enough students would be drawn to the paper to create healthy competition for the best story, feature, etc. Also the Professor teaching the course would lend a hand by way of experience, guidance and that great motivator, the grade.

This same method is used at almost every other university. They turn out first rate publications because they have first rate administrative planning. Our organization is absolutely zero- we're lucky we have a paper at all.

We need help- administrative help- anyone listening?

The Veteran's Wives Auxiliary has been pretty busy lately. Since we were last in print, we've attended the Vet's Pool Party, held two bake sales, and attended the Vet's Welcoming Party and added six new members. Also by this date we will have had two meetings for the month.

At the meeting May 2, it was suggested that we look into helping with the drug problem in our community. They do not need volunteer work, but we can help in other ways. As a service club we agreed to find out what we can do. We also decided to donate a gift, possibly a basket of fruit, to a needy mother on Mother's Day.

We are discussing a cruise! This should really be different. More details will be in the next week's AVION.

Congratulations to Ellen Spencer who just had a baby girl!!

If you would like to join our active club call Lisa Wolfe at 252-5686.

SENATE-SIXTEEN SEATS

by Dick Reimann

Monday, May 22, is election day. The Senior Class elections will be held in conjunction with the SGA Senatorial Elections.

Ask yourself this question: What does it take to get involved? Below you will find listed all the requirements.

Personally I have listened to many students complain about the problems they see around campus. To those persons, if you are serious, I issue the challenge to run for office.

What does the SGA do? It would take this entire newspaper to list all our functions. However, I may raise your brow with just a couple. First, the SGA is the major communications link between the students, administration, and faculty. Second, the SGA has a budget of 45,000 dollars a year. The SGA is here to serve all the students in any way it can.

C'mon, get involved! If you think you are good enough, run for office.

Any questions concerning this article or the following list may be answered by contacting the SGA office.

EAGLE EMBLEM CONTEST- SGA SPONSOR

The SGA is offering a $25.00 award to the student who designs the best school emblem. This emblem would be used on the school pennant and flag and displayed at athletic events, and other public functions.

Entries must be submitted to the SGA Office by May 31st 1972. The Emblem must include the school colors, blue and gold. The following is an example of an emblem.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS ASSOCIATION

Embry-Riddle's International Students were "the hit of the evening" last Thursday night at the Volusia County International Relations Club Dinner. Eighty people attended the dinner which was held at Stetson University. Directly before the meeting was to adjourn, three of our International students decided to liven up the party with some entertainment. Noel Colon started the entertainment by playing the guitar, accompanied by Joseph Stein on the accordion. To complete the group, Telmo Guevara lead the group by singing. The ten international students present at the dinner did an excellent job of representing Embry-Riddle throughout the entire evening, and a good time was had by all.

by Rick Mitzi

Not since the mail-order bride business have we been able to buy so much without ever moving. We can get anything via Ma Bell these days. We can register for college, feed a feast to 17 hungries, have our rugs cleaned, furnish our sunrooms and visit our mothers --all by letting your fingers do the walking and your mouth do the talking. And if you can't do that, you just call a number and they'll send out someone who can.

Last Saturday, I went downtown to a large department store and found that the place was more barren than Palm Springs in July. I told the manager I was sorry that business was so bad.

"Bad!" he bayed. "Business has never been better. We've never sold more. It's just that everybody's ordering everything over the phone."

He led me to a room crowded with hundreds of ladies wearing telephone headsets over their blue hair and cauliflower ears. It looked like a joint convention of the League of Women Voters, Hadassah and the DAR. I walked around and listened.

"Yes, Mrs. Slotnick. We'll send out your artificial resuscitator this afternoon. Will someone be home to accept delivery?"

"I'm sorry, Ma'am, but we have a $5 minimum purchase on deliveries. Now if you add a loaf of bread and some cheese to your salami..."

Then the manager took me to the fortress in the next room where the delivery boys were lined up against the wall waiting for their assignments.

"Jimmy Slocum," the manager called.

"Yes, Sir," he said, clicking his heels together and stepping forward for his mission.

"Slocum, scoot up to lingerie and get two 36 Cross-Your-Hearts for Mrs. Scott on 1989 Lilac Lane, 44307."

"Yes, Sir!" he clicked and off he went to lingerie.

"What about the rest of the store," I asked the manager. "Nobody's here."

"We just keep the store open for tax purposes," he explains. "It looks good. I mean, we aren't in the mail order business."

"I'm looking for a pair of jockey shorts," I whispered. "Where can I find someone to help me?"

He told me to wait and called out pretty Miss Smythe from the phone room.

"Sir," Miss Smythe said. "May I help you?"

"Yeah. I'd like a pair of, um, jockey shorts."

"Oh," she said, looking befuddled. "Well, let me see... our horseback riding attire is on the sixth floor..."

"No, no, no," I said.

"Jockey shorts... underpants. Where's your men's underwear department?"

"Gee--- I don't know," she said and then smiled. "Why don't you trot across the street to the pay phone and call me and I can have them delivered to you there. I'm not sure how to do it any other way. You can charge it."

"I don't have a charge account here. I wanted to pay cash."

"Cash? Oh, you mean like money." She beamed.

"Yes. Sort of like money."

"This is highly irregular. I don't think we deal in cash here." She paused. "Say, why don't you just shoplift the underwear?" Our insurance will cover it."

"Listen, Miss Smythe, where can I open a charge account?"

"At the phone booth across the street."

"Thanks, Miss Smythe," I said, and began to walk away. "Say, can you tell me where the restroom is?"

"Gee," she said. "You can have that delivered too. And charge it, of course."

I thanked pretty young Miss Smythe again and walked across the street. There was a line 100 feet long waiting to get into the phone booth. I overheard the lady talking on the phone.

"Could you send over a ham on rye-- lay low on the mayo-- with garnish and a pickle? Just charge it to my account. I'm the lady in the chartreuse dress."

Finally, it was my turn. "Could you please send over two pairs of jockey shorts, size 32. I'm the one with the worn out underwear on. And--oh, yes-- could you also send over Miss Smythe, about a size 6, I think."

I now do all my shopping by phone.

SIGMA CHI

Last Saturday night ETA IOTA honored her new initiates.

We all give our hearty thanks to Brother Jim Patterson for doing a great job.

Last month ETA IOTA had a great time at Lake Dora. Boats were provided by Brothers Mark Rogers, Jim Patterson, Frank Moreno and our shrimpboat Captain, Nick Kropog. We had a great time playing volleyball and waterskiing.

Our hard working social functions team, Terry Gardner, Nick Kropog and Bob Butterworth, have an active summer planned. Another ski party is planned for June 10 and we're all looking forward to it.

Again, welcome to our new brothers.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

Welcome back to the old grind! As we affectionally think about our "unfortunate" Brothers who can't be with us this summer, because for some reason they wished to take a leave of absence from beautiful downtown Daytona, our thoughts travel back, and we end up crying rather hysterically.

Activities are rapidly being organized so as to take our minds off the reality of the Summer Terms and we are getting busy once again. Meetings, trips, parties etc. are all on the upcoming agenda and looked forward to with boundless enthusiasm.

An irreplaceable joy in our lives has tragically been wrenched from the very being of Lambda Chi Alpha. Our beloved mascot, Boozier, was killed by a hit-and-run driver right in front of our house one morning, and he now lies in a special place in our backyard--one that has a personal significance to all Brothers. We miss him dearly.

SIGMA PHI DELTA

The brothers of Sigma Phi Delta had just a fine spring break (even though only 7 members are here). Speaking of members, we are having a smoker for all interested engineering students Fri May 19, at 8:00. Look for our posters for further information. Since there are so few brothers here this summer, we have some extra rooms for rent at 519 S. Ridgewood. These rooms include a kitchen and bath. If you are interested contact Jim Burchfield or any other Fraternity member. We do have a new addition to the Frat. One of our alumni brothers' wife had a baby. Also on the social side of the news-Brett Spitalny is getting married this weekend As a final word:"Keep on trucking".
